Chapter 2: Why Government? Security, Anarchy, and Some Basic Group Dynamics

Test Bank

Multiple Choice
 The text uses the example of Mad Max and its sequel to demonstrate A. that anarchy is horrific B. that anarchy never persists for long C. that even an unpleasant government is better than none at all D. all of these Ans: D
Learning Objective: 2-1: Understand the motivations that lead to the establishment of government, aka Bobsville. Cognitive Domain: Comprehension
Answer Location: Why Government? Security, Anarchy, and Some Basic Group Dynamics Difficulty Level: Easy
 2. Post–apocalyptic fiction, such as Mad Max, Lord of the Flies, The Postman, and Lucifer's Hammer, demonstrates A. human instinct for governance B. Darwinism C. chaos theory D. patriarchy Ans: A
Learning Objective: 2-6: Describe the relationship of anarchy and power. Cognitive Domain: Comprehension Answer Location: An Impetus for Government Difficulty Level: Easy
3. The story of Bobsville and the collaborative efforts of the rice farmers illustrates
A. the development of modern agricultural techniques B. the failure of government institutions to maintain infrastructure C. the role of collective action in providing security D. how civilization has a corrupting influence

Learning Objective: 2-6: Describe the relationship of anarchy and power.

Answer Location: An Impetus for Government Difficulty Level: Easy

Cognitive Domain: Comprehension

Ans: C

- 4. Which of the following statements is false?
- A. Collective action is coordinated group action that is designed to achieve a common goal that individuals acting on their own could not otherwise obtain.
- B. Collective action is not necessary if there is a strong leader.
- C. Collective action is the essence of government.
- D. There are certain goods that individuals can achieve only through working together with others.

Ans: B

Learning Objective: 2-2: Describe the importance of collective action in Bobsville.

Cognitive Domain: Application
Answer Location: Collective Action

Difficulty Level: Medium

- 5. Which of the following statements is true?
- A. Individual security is the ability of a leader to hold on to power.
- B. What many people call regime security, political scientists refer to as national security.
- C. Security is only a marginal governmental concern.
- D. Security is the ability to protect something of value.

Ans: D

Learning Objective: 2-3: On threat of banishment, define the different types of security.

Cognitive Domain: Application Answer Location: Security Difficulty Level: Medium

6.	The protection of	borders and	governmental	structures from	outside threats	is defined as	security.

A. regime

B. individual

C. state

D. national

Ans: C

Learning Objective: 2-3: On threat of banishment, define the different types of security.

Cognitive Domain: Knowledge Answer Location: Security Difficulty Level: Easy

7. The protection of the interests or survival of tribal, ethnic, or other groups that exist within and across state borders is defined as _____ security.

A. regime

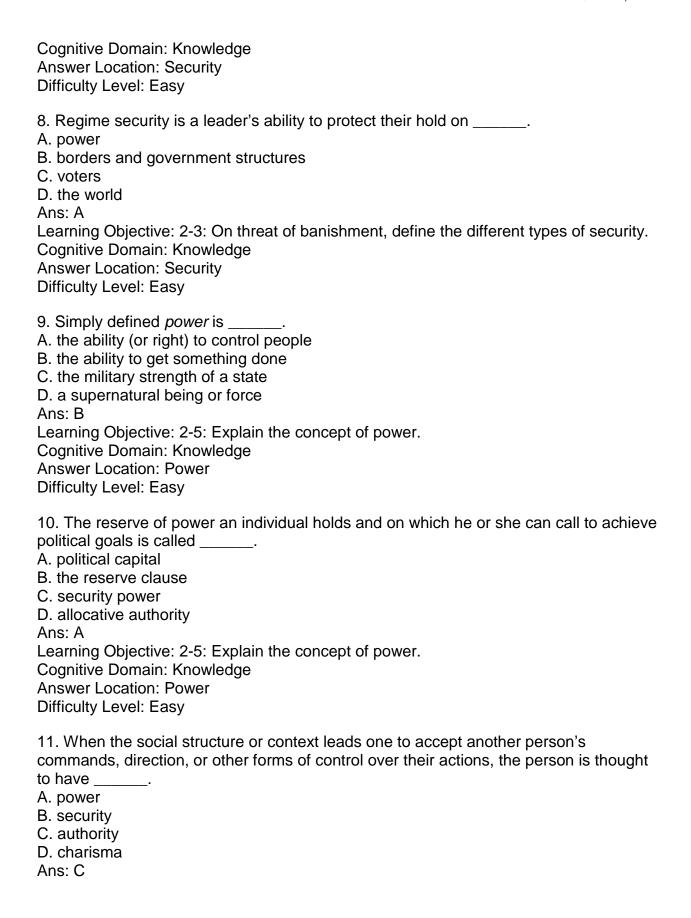

B. individual

C. state

D. national

Ans: D

Learning Objective: 2-3: On threat of banishment, define the different types of security.

Learning Objective: 2-5: Explain the concept of power. Cognitive Domain: Comprehension Answer Location: Power

Difficulty Level: Easy

- 12. Which of the following statements is false?
- A. The term anarchy refers to an absence of any kind of overarching authority or hierarchy.
- B. Anarchy is, perhaps, the most inefficient form of human organization there is. C. The United States was only in an anarchic state for most of the 19th century.
- D. Anarchists are ideologues who long for a lack of hierarchy.

Ans: C

Learning Objective: 2-6: Describe the relationship of anarchy and power.

Cognitive Domain: Application Answer Location: Anarchy Difficulty Level: Medium

13. Power and authority constrain the individual in a(n) _____ state.

A. anarchical

B. hierarchical

C. chaotic

D. transformative

Ans: B

Learning Objective: 2-6: Describe the relationship of anarchy and power.

Cognitive Domain: Comprehension Answer Location: Anarchy and Power

Difficulty Level: Easy

- 14. Which of the following political theorists described life in the state of nature as "solitary, poor, nasty, brutish, and short?"
- A. Aristotle
- B. Jean-Jacques Rousseau
- C. John Locke
- D. Thomas Hobbes

Ans: D

Learning Objective: 2-6: Describe the relationship of anarchy and power.

Cognitive Domain: Application

Answer Location: An Impetus for Government

Difficulty Level: Easy

- 15. These occur when individuals or groups agree to join resources and abilities for a purpose that individually benefits members:
- A. pivotal groupings
- B. alliances
- C. group associations
- D. coordinates

Ans: B

Learning Objective: 2-8: Describe how alliances work on Gilligan's Island, Game of Thrones, or in real life.

Cognitive Domain: Comprehension

Answer Location: Alliances

Difficulty Level: Easy

16. Which of the following theorists asserted that people surrender only those rights that are absolutely necessary for the government to carry out its primary function?

A. John Locke

B. Anthony Hopkins

C. Karl Marx

D. Sigmund Freud

Ans: A

Learning Objective: 2-9: Identify the factors that go into determining who's in a group and how the members interact.

Cognitive Domain: Application

Answer Location: Groups and Group Identities

Difficulty Level: Easy

17. Which of these thinkers believed that if someone does not follow the rules of the general will, they will be "forced to be free?"

A. John Adams

B. Adam Smith

C. Jean-Jacques Rousseau

D. John Locke

Ans: C

Learning Objective: 2-9: Identify the factors that go into determining who's in a group and how the members interact.

Cognitive Domain: Application

Answer Location: Conflict between Groups

Difficulty Level: Easy

18. What is significant about Jean-Jacques Rousseau that distinguishes him from Thomas Hobbes and John Locke?

A. Rousseau was Belgian, while Hobbes and Locke were British.

- B. Rousseau did not believe that civilized society is an improvement on the state of nature.
- C. Rousseau emphasized radical individualism and believed people should be free to pursue their own interests over those of the community.
- D. Rousseau believed life in the state of nature was a brutal, unforgiving existence.

Ans: B

Learning Objective: 2-9: Identify the factors that go into determining who's in a group and how the members interact.

Cognitive Domain: Comprehension

Answer Location: Conflict between Groups

Difficulty Level: Medium

19. Lewis Coser examined group conflict in terms of which of the following?

A. the social or political functions it served

B. how little groups contribute to society

C. the way to maximize economic productivity

D. their underlying benefit to rice production

Ans: A

Learning Objective: 2-9: Identify the factors that go into determining who's in a group

and how the members interact. Cognitive Domain: Application

Answer Location: Conflict between Groups

Difficulty Level: Medium

20. Which of the following statements best describes the importance of "the other?"

A. You can absolutely define those who are not part of the group by initiating a conflict with them.

B. Leaders are not very concerned with it.

C. These are the people that wind up working the hardest and paying the most taxes.

D. It really has no value as a concept.

Ans: A

Learning Objective: 2-9: Identify the factors that go into determining who's in a group and how the members interact.

Cognitive Domain: Application

Answer Location: Conflict between Groups

Difficulty Level: Medium

21. The "rally 'round the flag effect" refers to which of the following?

A. Americans tend to say the Pledge of Allegiance more often than do citizens of other nations.

B. Whenever Americans perceive a threat to the nation, public opinion polls show that there is also an upsurge in the president's approval ratings.

C. Flag production is often associated with national holiday celebrations.

D. Owning a flag is a good indicator of whether someone will be successful.

Ans: B

Learning Objective: 2-9: Identify the factors that go into determining who's in a group and how the members interact.

Cognitive Domain: Application

Answer Location: Conflict between Groups

Difficulty Level: Medium

22. Which of the following statements about group identity is false?

A. Group identification first becomes important when the members ask the crucial question of who can be a member of the group.

B. Human groups tend to be amorphous.

C. Leaders constantly try to manipulate the qualifications for group membership to achieve their own political ends.

D. Group identity is fixed; it never varies.

Ans: D

Learning Objective: 2-9: Identify the factors that go into determining who's in a group

and how the members interact.

Cognitive Domain: Application

Answer Location: Group Identities

Difficulty Level: Medium

23. Intergroup conflict leads to a strengthening of _____.

A. group identity

B. group identification

C. group membership

D. group dynamics

Ans: A

Learning Objective: 2-9: Identify the factors that go into determining who's in a group

and how the members interact.

Cognitive Domain: Comprehension

Answer Location: Conflict between Groups

Difficulty Level: Easy

24. According to your textbook, government is defined as _____.

A. the means to an end

B. a set of agreements, laws, or other political structures designed to provide permanent hierarchy

C. the social contract

D. a collective agreement between a group of people with a common problem

Ans: R

Learning Objective: 2-8: Describe how alliances work on Gilligan's Island, Game of

Thrones, or in real life.

Cognitive Domain: Knowledge Answer Location: Alliances

Difficulty Level: Easy

25. The following, according to political scientist Brian L. Job, are securities critical to understanding the political dynamics of developing nations, EXCEPT _____.

A. state security

B. regime securityC. national security

D. political security

Ans: D

Learning Objective: 2-3: On threat of banishment, define the different types of security.

Cognitive Domain: Application Answer Location: Security Difficulty Level: Medium 26. What is the central element in political group dynamics? A. homogeneity B. strength C. leadership D. conflict Ans: D Learning Objective: 2-9: Identify the factors that go into determining who's in a group and how the members interact. Cognitive Domain: Comprehension Answer Location: Conflict between Groups Difficulty Level: Easy 27. According to John Locke, the primary function of government is _____. A. the preservation of property B. to give tax credits for scary hairdos C. to lead the nation into war D. the confiscation of property Ans: A Learning Objective: 2-9: Identify the factors that go into determining who's in a group and how the members interact. Cognitive Domain: Knowledge Answer Location: Groups and Group Identities Difficulty Level: Easy 28. According to your textbook, power is to politics as _____.

A. money is to capitalism

B. freedom is to slavery

C. Michael Scott is to Dwight Schrute

D. faith is to religion

Ans: A

Learning Objective: 2-5: Explain the concept of power.

Cognitive Domain: Comprehension

Answer Location: Power Difficulty Level: Easy

29. What is the essence of government?

A. collective action

B. maintaining armies

C. torturing citizens

D. faith-based organizations

Ans: A

Learning Objective: 2-2: Describe the importance of collective action in Bobsville.

Cognitive Domain: Comprehension Answer Location: Collective Action

Difficulty Level: Easy

30. Which one of the following films conjures up most closely a social expression known as anarchy?

A. Harry Potter and the Goblet of Fire

B. Twilight

C. The Lord of the Rings: The Fellowship of the Ring

D. Mad Max

Ans: D

Learning Objective: 2-6: Describe the relationship of anarchy and power.

Cognitive Domain: Application Answer Location: Anarchy Difficulty Level: Easy

True/False

1. Individuals earn political capital by doing favors for others in the hope that they will deliver their support at a future date.

Ans: T

Learning Objective: 2-5: Explain the concept of power.

Cognitive Domain: Comprehension

Answer Location: Power Difficulty Level: Easy

2. There is no difference between power and authority.

Ans: F

Learning Objective: 2-5: Explain the concept of power.

Cognitive Domain: Comprehension

Answer Location: Power Difficulty Level: Easy

3. Many anarchists are ideologues who long for a lack of hierarchy.

Ans: T

Learning Objective: 2-6: Describe the relationship of anarchy and power.

Cognitive Domain: Comprehension

Answer Location: Anarchy Difficulty Level: Easy

4. The "other" is often referred to as our allies.

Ans: F

Learning Objective: 2-9: Identify the factors that go into determining who's in a group

and how the members interact.

Cognitive Domain: Comprehension

Answer Location: Conflict between Groups

Difficulty Level: Easy

5. An alliance occurs when individuals or groups agree to combine resources and abilities for a purpose that benefits the members of the alliance individually.

Ans: T

Learning Objective: 2-8: Describe how alliances work on Gilligan's Island, Game of

Thrones, or in real life.

Cognitive Domain: Comprehension

Answer Location: Alliances

Difficulty Level: Easy

Essay

1. What is collective action?

Ans: According to the author, collective action is a coordinated group activity designed to achieve a common goal that individuals acting on their own could not otherwise attain.

Learning Objective: 2-2: Describe the importance of collective action in Bobsville.

Cognitive Domain: Comprehension Answer Location: Collective Action

Difficulty Level: Easy

2. Using the example of Bob the farmer, examine why and how we theoretically progress from anarchy to government.

Ans: Student's examples will vary. However, they should touch upon organizing as a group to achieve a collective benefit.

Learning Objective: 2-1: Understand the motivations that lead to the establishment of government, aka Bobsville.

Cognitive Domain: Analysis

Answer Location: A Model for the Emergence of Cooperation: Bobsville

Difficulty Level: Medium

3. Compare and contrast the different types of security (state, regime, national, individual).

Ans: The four different types of security have one thing in common--they are meant to protect something/someone. The difference lies in which entity is protected by a certain type of security. For example, national security is the protection of the interests or survival of tribal, ethnic, or other groups that exist within and across state borders. State security, on the other hand, protects the borders and governmental structures from outside threats. Regime security is the ability to protect one's hold on power, while individual security is the protection of one's self.

Learning Objective: 2-3: On threat of banishment, define the different types of security. Cognitive Domain: Comprehension

Answer Location: Security Difficulty Level: Hard

4. Who is the "other?"

Ans: In group dynamics, the "other" becomes the enemy, them, not us.

Learning Objective: 2-9: Identify the factors that go into determining who's in a group

and how the members interact.

Cognitive Domain: Comprehension

Answer Location: Conflict between Groups

Difficulty Level: Medium

5. Explain how someone might go about accumulating "political capital" and how this accumulation can increase someone's power.

Ans: According to the author, individuals earn political capital by doing favors for others in the hope that they will deliver their support at a future date. Earning support can help individuals such as those campaigning for office. The more support individuals have the more likely that their power will increase.

Learning Objective: 2-5: Explain the concept of power.

Cognitive Domain: Analysis Answer Location: Power Difficulty Level: Medium