SHORT ANSWER. Write the word or phrase that best completes each statement or answers the question.

- 51) A friend is a manager at a small technology firm that manufactures radiology equipment, such as CAT scanners. He states that shareholders want him to increase profits, so he is willing to do whatever it takes to increase profits. In fact, he has the opportunity to get a contract with a supplier who will supply parts at a lower cost, but the quality will be noticeably worse. However, as the hospital is the only one in this rural area, most patients do not have the option to go to another hospital. What can you tell your friend about behaving ethically?
 - Answer: I would tell my friend that shareholders do not want profits increased by unethical acts. When an organization behaves unethically, it is a more risky investment. Furthermore, reducing quality would hurt the reputation of the company, which would cause its stock price to drop lower than the stock prices of competitors who behaved ethically. Some shareholders will withdraw support simply because they don't believe in unethical behavior. State that costs can be reduced in other ways and that ethical behavior pays off in the long run, because it gives an organization a positive reputation.

- 52) The Organizational Insight "Conflicting Interests in Health Care" discusses the relationship
 52) between doctors and pharmaceutical companies. The pharmaceutical companies entice doctors to prescribe their drugs through free samples, free meals, and entertainment. Using the three ethical models (utilitarian, moral rights and justice), discuss the thought process a doctor would have when faced with this situation.
 - Answer: This question is a good application of the ethics models. You might have them answer as phrases. Below are some examples:

Utilitarian: "Will more people be helped or harmed if I prescribe this drug?"

Moral Rights: "Am I violating patient rights by prescribing this drug?"

Justice: "What is the fairest solution for all involved?" Explanation:

- 53) In Agency Theory, what is "Moral Hazard?" Under what conditions does it exist?
 - Answer: Moral hazard exists when principles have more information than agents, both parties have different goals, and it is difficult to evaluate how the agent performs. There are various ways to solve the agency problem. One way is through governance mechanisms, which allow the agent to more easily be monitored, and the other is through various compensation schemes designed to align the goals of the principle and the agent.
